TIPS WITH TIA

THE BALCONY THAT CHANGES CONDO LIVING

One of the coolest features I've seen in a new development lately is at Concord Metrotown in Burnaby: the retractable glass balcony.

You can open it up and enjoy the fresh air, or close it when the weather isn't cooperating. Even better, it creates more usable living space and makes your home feel bigger.

For Vancouver living, I love the idea of having an indoor-outdoor space you can actually enjoy year-round. It's a small feature that can make a big difference in how you experience your home.

Homebuyers: Never Skip This First Step

The hard truth no one tells you about buying property. Falling in love with a home is easy. Discovering afterward that the financing does not work is the part no buyer wants.

Before the house hunt becomes serious, it is worth getting pre-approved for a mortgage. A pre-approval estimates how much a lender may be prepared to lend based on your income, debts, credit history and down payment. Depending on the lender, it may also include an interest-rate hold. The real benefit is clarity.

In Metro Vancouver, even a $50,000 difference can change the homes and neighbourhoods available. Knowing your realistic price range helps focus the search, clarify monthly costs and reduce the chance of pursuing a property that does not fit your financing. However, it is not final mortgage approval. The lender must still review the property and confirm your financial information, so a financing condition may still be important.

REAL ESTATE PRO TIP

“House hunting
is more exciting,
but pre-approval
gives it a practical starting point.”

House hunting may be the exciting part, but pre-approval creates a practical starting point and helps buyers search with realistic expectations.
